

October News letter (site change)

Hey Frostburners!

We're back and we have big news. There are some major changes and announcements happening and we are going to chat about it. Grab a drink, take a seat, and get ready to be excited.

Event Dates-

Thursday, February 12th (noon) - Monday, February 16th (noon)

Early Arrival will be available starting Feb 6th to those with Theme Camps and/or Art installations.

Applications for early arrival will be released when ticket go on sale.

New Location-

Whoah! What?! Yeah, that's right. Frostburn 2015 will be at a new location, Marvin's Mountaintop, right outside of Masontown, WV. Marvin's mountaintop is a 600 acre venue with amenities like gravel parking lots and gravel or paved event roads throughout the site. The former host of the AllGood Music Festival and the current host to a wide variety of festivals and rallies, Marvin's Mountaintop is an established venue.

Currently there is no website for Marvin's Mountaintop, but by following this link and switching over to earth view in Google maps you can take a bit of a look around. The area we plan on using is more level than the main event field at Camp Kevin, to give you a frame of reference. We will have an official Frostburn site map soon.

Marvin's Mountaintop is about an hour and 40 minutes away from Pittsburgh. We will have more exciting details and directions to site in upcoming announcement emails.

Why we left Camp Kevin-

Frostburn is leaving Camp Kevin at the request of the land owners. We are grateful for the two wonderful years we had at Camp Kevin, they went above and beyond to help us make Frostburn 2013 and 2014 a reality.

After 2014 it became clear though, the event was too much stress on the land and on our hosts.

Tickets-

More ticketing information coming soon! Expect a follow up email in the next few weeks with tier pricing and ticketing information.

This is a short introduction to the awesomeness that will be Frostburn 2015. Keep checking the website for more updates. Keep an eye out for newsletters and announcements. We have so much more to tell you, but we really wanted you to know the biggest What? Where?! When?! news we've had in a while. Help us out and forward this to your camp mate and Frostburn friends!

Share the Warmth!
